Coalition America, Inc. and NPPN to Offer Greater Cost Savings for Integrated Client Base

Atlanta, Georgia – June 12, 2008 - Coalition America, Inc. (CAI) announced today that the integration of NPPN has already begun showing increased medical cost savings for its clients.

“Through the ongoing integration of CAI and NPPN, we have optimized our combined direct contracts and the use of all our network partners into one platform so that both client bases have the benefit of the combined offering,” said Tina Ellex, chief operating officer for CAI. “We’re excited about being able to offer our clients optimal savings through our combined offering. Through extensive analyses, we have determined the greatest cost-savings for our clients through the utilization of approximately 300,000 direct contracts, as well as our affiliate PPO network partners.”

Independently, CAI and NPPN have saved their clients billions of dollars in medical costs. The combination of CAI and NPPN positions the combined entity to deliver enhanced savings to healthcare payors, including self insured employers, labor organizations, health insurance carriers and third party administrators.
