

Clinical and Coding Edit Services

Healthcare payors need to constantly evaluate ways to reduce and contain healthcare costs while simultaneously adding services to differentiate themselves in the marketplace. Tough competition and multiple stakeholders with varying interests including providers, members, employees and regulators make the job even tougher.

That's why Coalition America partnered with Bloodhound Technologies to provide the most robust claims editing and analytics solution available. Coding errors cost money and time to resolve, depress auto-adjudication rates and create potential conflict between providers and payors. And the farther inaccurate claims proceed through the payment pipeline, the more costly they become—to everyone.

Benefits

- Increased savings –an additional 2-7% above current editing system
- Increased auto-adjudication rates as less claims have to pend
- In network & out-of-network claim review
- EDI batch & real-time editing across patient history
- Complete flexibility: ClaimsGuard can be customized to match your plan needs
- Access to web tools through Bloodhound or client's existing web portals
- Improved provider relations through 16 million open sourced edits and access to edit sources for claims correction online
- Guaranteed compliance with all CMS and AMA based national coding guidelines

Why Bloodhound?

Superior Savings Results

Bloodhound's service offers clients real-time processing in an ASP mode; a comprehensive library of open-sourced edits based on national standards; and the most sophisticated technology based algorithms and duplicate logic available. The results are savings that other editing systems simply cannot match. In fact, Bloodhound has run our service after every competing editing system on the market. The result: additional savings found every time.

Complete Flexibility

Bloodhound's service can be configured on 60 parameters to exactly codify a payer's reimbursement policies. This increases auto-adjudication rates as fewer claims have to pend.

Easy implementation, no hardware costs or ongoing maintenance

Because Bloodhound's service is offered in an ASP model, implementation is easy and no additional hardware or IT costs are required. Further, the job of keeping our 16 million edits up to date is Bloodhound's responsibility not our clients. Bloodhound promises to keep our edits to date with all CCI, CMS, and AMA policy changes, so our clients and their providers can rest easy knowing their editing is always current.

Consulting Services

An integral part of our solution is the support component. Bloodhound offers a blend of technical and clinical and claims processing consultative support that we feel is unique in the industry. Highlights include a dedicated account team, in-depth standard and ad-hoc reporting, clinical support for provider appeals, and consultative reviews to review data, determine ROI and recommend best practices.
